Registration Document

Personal Export or New Means of Transport document is issued to new vehicles sold under a 'Personal Export' or 'New Means of Transport' scheme, issued under the Motor Vehicle (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002. It contains the registration details of the vehicle, the name and address of the registered keeper and the name of the registered keeper of the vehicle. Vehicles may be used on UK roads for a limited time prior to export.

Registered keeper

The registered keeper is responsible for ensuring the vehicle is properly registered, taxed and insured. The registered keeper is not necessarily the owner of the vehicle and is not responsible for the vehicle until we are told that it has been sold, transferred, scrapped or exported. It is known as continuous registration. A vehicle bought for export is given a vehicle registration number from the 'XA - XF' series. If you are considering having the vehicle registered in the UK, you need to be aware of these vehicle registration numbers and apply for a temporary basis.

Vehicle registration number cannot be kept in circumstances where the vehicle is exported. This also applies, if the vehicle is returned back to the United Kingdom (UK). Changes to the vehicle's registration details, for example where a vehicle is moved from one manufacturer/dealer to another prior to export, must be notified immediately, by filling in new address details on page 7 and returning the document to a DVLA Local Office. A change in the use of the vehicle which affects the tax class must also be reported. You should enter any change of address details in the next available space on page 7 and the document must then be sent to DVLA local office where it is registered (see page 8).
